DEATH OF TAFT

The American people have suffered a great loss in the death of Senator Robert A. Taft.

No man in public life possessed a more brilliant mind or more long-range, detailed experience with national problems.

The gifts and talents which Senator Taft brought to the government were a priceless possession to the incoming Republican Administration.

His leadership, his grasp of issues and his skill in achieving compromises which dissident groups in the legislative branch of government could agree upon will be sorely missed.

It was the opinion of a great portion of the Republican Party that Taft's assets made him not only the best candidate available for the Presidency a year ago but the most outstanding candidate for that office which the Republican Party had at its disposal for at least half a century.

For reasons which did not reflect upon either Taft's capabilities or his integrity, the nomination was lost to him at the Chicago convention. He thereupon threw his shoulder behind the wheel of General Eisenhower and may be said to have been almost individually responsible for the ensuing victory.

Nation Mourns Death of Taft From Cancer

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(INS) — Messages of condolence and tribute from national and world leaders — and numerous plain American citizens — attested today the depth of the loss felt at the passing of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

The body of "Mr. Republican" — the son of a U. S. President and thrice aspirant to the Republican Presidential nomination — lay in a New York funeral home, pending word from the Taft family in Washington on the final rites. It is expected the late Ohio Senator's body will be sent to Washington for a State funeral.

Senator Taft, who died of cancer in New York hospital yesterday morning with his four sons at his bedside, came to the end of a long and outstanding political career. He achieved every honor the Republican party could bestow on him except the top one — the Presidency of the United States.

President Eisenhower summed up the nation's mourning when he said: "The Senate has lost one of its leading members the American people have lost a truly great citizen and I have lost a wise counselor and a valued friend."

Three-Car Crash Injures 5 Persons

A three-car accident at the intersection of Green lane and Route 13 early last night sent an entire family of five to Bristol General Hospital, where all were treated for minor injuries and later released.

Patrolman William Jayne, of the Bristol Township police said that James P. Rogan, 32, 57 Wyndale avenue, Rockdale, was driving west on Route 13 and struck another car traveling in the opposite direction and about to make a left hand turn into Green lane.

The second car, operated by Arthur J. Wall, Sr., 53, 156 Andover road, Fairless Hills, then ricocheted into a third auto which had stopped at the intersection for a red light, according to Jayne.

Turnpike Work Gets Underway In Bristol Township

Bristol Township's section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension is beginning to take shape.

Preliminary clearing work, in preparation for the highway which will move motorists from Pennsylvania to New Jersey and New York via the Delaware River, has already started in the Township.

The C. J. Langerfelder & Son Company of Baltimore, low bidders for the project, has already moved heavy clearing machinery into the area as the first step on the 3.32-mile project.

The Baltimore firm already has three sections of Turnpike under construction, and the latest link brings their total work orders to "near the $20 million mark."

The extension will affect several families in Edgely, a few of whom have already had their houses moved on rollers to new sites. Turnpike commission spokesmen said that their group purchases homes which are in the right-of-way and then re-sells them to the original owners.

The new portion of highway will complete Pennsylvania's share except a section which would connect a proposed Delaware River bridge with U. S. Route 13.

Kissing Booth Missing But Party's A Wow

A controversial kissing booth at the Levittown Block Party made its initial appearance last night — but with no one to man (or woman) it.

Dressed in a cloak of charred logs, the booth exemplified a sign hung at the entrance which read: "The kissing booth was too hot to handle."

The booth became a subject of controversy recently when several members of the planning committee made the suggestion, only to have it eventually voted out — then in then out again. As the time of the party grew near, no one would officially comment on the status of the booth.

Other non-habit-forming forms of amusement were available, however, for the women folk and the men who had received mimeographed "orders from home" before leaving for the affair.

A miniature "whip" for the kiddies, square dancing and the usual refreshments helped to pacify the crowd of almost 1000 who were on hand for the opening.

The party, on Pine Lake drive, between Pinewood and Lakeside, will wind up tonight.

Nation Warned Of High Debt By Sen. Martin

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—A sharp warning that this nation can sink to destruction just as world history has recorded great empires brought to disaster by debt and taxes was sounded today by U. S. Senator Martin of Pennsylvania in an address before the annual convention of the State Department, American Legion, at Pittsburgh.

"The financial picture of our government is most alarming," Senator Martin said, citing the 9½ billion deficit created at the end of the fiscal year which he pointed out was the biggest deficit in our peacetime history.

"Not long after the end of World War II," he said, "when our national debt had climbed to an alarming height, Congress placed a limit upon Federal government borrowing. That limit was fixed at 275 billion dollars. Today our debt has reached 272 billion, or within 3 billion of the legal limit."

"There is a disposition on the part of some of our people to take the debt lightly — as something for future generations to worry about. But I assure you," he warned, "that the danger is here — now — with all the explosive force of the atomic bomb. When I plead with you for economy in government, I have in mind every function at every level of government, including defense, foreign aid and all forms of domestic spending."

Emphasizing defense spending, Senator Martin said he favors providing the American soldier with the best that money and brains can provide, but he cited the waste in which many millions of dollars in equipment goes down the drain because such material has been junked.

Rail Underpass Project to Start

Construction of the Levittown-Tullytown railroad station underpass is scheduled to start this week, according to a spokesman for the contractors, James McGray Company.

The pass will have a width of seven feet, five inches and a height of over nine feet. Plans call for an oval-shaped pass, with inside walls and ceiling curved and lined with plaster.

The contractors are the builders of two recently-constructed underpasses at the Morrisville freight yards.

Bucks County Lawmakers Set Envious Mark

Legislators Report Aid In Many Bills

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 1 — Bucks County legislators who have returned from the 140th session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly's nearly seven-month session in Harrisburg, have an enviable record.

In the Senate, the end of the session came when Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tem, banged the gavel, supported by a blast from a Gabriel-like horn at the lips of Sen. Tilghman A. Freed, of Lehigh County. Just before that Senator Edward B. Watson (R. Bucks) was a member of the committee which informed Gov. S. Fine that the Senate was ready to close for the session.

State Assemblyman Wilson L. Peckel, Perkasee, was a member of the House committee that informed the Senate that the House had completed its work for the session.

Senator Watson introduced numerous bills that were passed and voted for a large number of others that he did not introduce.

Watson introduced bills provide for an appropriation for the Tabor Home, an appropriation to the National Agricultural College; increased pay for all the assessors.

The Watson-introduced bill gives the upper port authority, the same rights as the lower river port authority (Philadelphia), subject to the okay of the U. S. Congress.

Senator Watson worked diligently for the passage of the bill that would have repealed the Philadelphia wage tax which it passed and would have saved Bucks Counties working in Philadelphia thousands of dollars. The bill got through the Senate on third reading but was defeated in the House on June 11.

A Watson-sponsored bill paves way for $25,000 appropriation for a diagnostic laboratory for the study of poultry diseases at the National Agricultural College.

Another successful Watson act provides for additional fees for coroners in fifth class counties, including Bucks. After the first 100 cases now, the coroner will receive $25 per case. Some fifth class counties now have but 30 coroner's cases in a year while the Bucks County coroner handled over 300 last year, at a fee rate that was far from equitable, and with so many cases to handle he could not conduct the office without actually losing money on some inquests and investigations.

Senator Watson voted for a bill that passed and will increase the pay of jury commissioners in fifth class counties.

He was also influential in a bill passed that will provide expense money for official out-of-state guests who will attend the dedication of the Revolutionary soldiers' field at Washington Crossing Park. This ceremony will be attended by the governors of the 13 original states and will be held either next fall or early in the spring of 1954.

Another Watson-sponsored bill that was passed provides a $40,000 appropriation for the strengthening of the 70 bridges over the Delaware River Canal in Bucks and Northampton counties. The bridges were built originally for horse and wagon travel and are now dangerous for heavy vehicles such as fire apparatus.

Senator Watson's bill that would have provided for better protection for school children riding school buses never came out of committee. It was viewed by some as "bad legislation" because of the danger of the patrol member himself being injured by the bus, and making the school district liable. Senator Watson said, however, that he felt certain that some better bill can be worked out at the next session of the Legislature. The Watson bill provided for one of the students to serve as a safety patrol officer aboard the bus, seeing to it that the students were safely unloaded.

Senator Watson is chairman of the important executive nominations committee, and co-chairman of the appropriations committee, as well as a member of a number of other committees.

Assemblyman Yeakel is a member of the powerful rules committee of the House, and a veteran member of the Legislature. Assemblyman Keller served for some time during the recent session as acting chairman of the state government committee, when the chairman was stricken ill.

The Courier covers the Lower End of Bucks County, including the following communities: Bristol, Levittown, Fairless Hills, Langhorne, Pottsville, Edgely, Tullytown, Coopersburg, Waterford, Bath, Addicks, New Hope, Doylestown, Pottsville, and Cornwells Heights.

McCoy revealed it is the first time in 18 years that the Bristol youngsters captured state honors. In 1935 they won it for the fourth consecutive year. Since then they have been runners-up for the national championship — in 1952 in New York, and in 1951 they placed third in the national meet.

To make the honors more complete, the Bracken Color Guard won the state guard contest with a high score of 37.5.

The youngsters, scheduled to return to Bristol tomorrow, are slated to be given a hearty welcome-home by jubilant residents who have been their supporters and fans over the past years.

The Cavaliers consist of approximately 45 boys and 15 girls. Arthur Stracchio is their corps commander and Benjamin Asta, assistant commander. Mrs. Marvel Durham served as chaperone on the trip.

Paolinis Enplane For Trip to Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Paolini, 273 Roosevelt street, boarded a Trans World Airlines Skyliner on Tuesday for a trans-Atlantic flight to Rome, Italy, where they will visit relatives until October.

The Paolinis, who left from New York International Airport, are among more than half a million Americans expected to visit Europe this year.

TWA officials said that passenger traffic on the airline's trans-Atlantic routes this summer will be up by 20 per cent over last year's record travel.

No Talks Slated In Soap Co. Strike

No meetings have been scheduled between representatives of the union local and management, as the strike of 283 employees at the Manhattan Soap Company continues.

President Frank Field, of Local 373, United Chemical Workers (CIO) said this morning "nothing new has come up; we haven't had any sort of meeting."

Negotiations have been going on in the dispute since June. The workers struck at 12:01 midnight July 23 and have had one meeting with the company since that date.

Turnpike Work Gets Underway In Bristol Township

Bristol Township's section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike extension is beginning to take shape.

Preliminary clearing work, in preparation for the highway which will move motorists from Pennsylvania to New Jersey and New York via the Delaware River, has already started in the Township.

The C. J. Langerfelder & Son Company of Baltimore, low bidders for the project, has already moved heavy clearing machinery into the area as the first step on the 3.32-mile project.

The Baltimore firm already has three sections of Turnpike under construction, and the latest link brings their total work orders to "near the $20 million mark."

The extension will affect several families in Edgely, a few of whom have already had their houses moved on rollers to new sites. Turnpike commission spokesmen said that their group purchases homes which are in the right-of-way and then re-sells them to the original owners.

The new portion of highway will complete Pennsylvania's share except a section which would connect a proposed Delaware River bridge with U. S. Route 13.

Overtured Auto Found Abandoned

Kissing Booth Missing But Party's A Wow

A controversial kissing booth at the Levittown Block Party made its initial appearance last night — but with no one to man (or woman) it.

Dressed in a cloak of charred logs, the booth exemplified a sign hung at the entrance which read: "The kissing booth was too hot to handle."

The booth became a subject of controversy recently when several members of the planning committee made the suggestion, only to have it eventually voted out — then in — then out again. As the time of the party grew near, no one would officially comment on the status of the booth.

Other non-habit-forming forms of amusement were available, however, for the women folk and the men who had received mimeographed "orders from home" before leaving for the affair.

A miniature "whip" for the kiddies, square dancing and the usual refreshments helped to pacify the crowd of almost 1000 who were on hand for the opening.

The party, on Pine Lake drive, between Pinewood and Lakeside, will wind up tonight.

Nation Warned Of High Debt By Sen. Martin

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—A sharp warning that this nation can sink to destruction just as world history has recorded great empires brought to disaster by debt and taxes was sounded today by U. S. Senator Martin of Pennsylvania in an address before the annual convention of the State Department, American Legion, at Pittsburgh.

"The financial picture of our government is most alarming," Senator Martin said, citing the 9½ billion deficit created at the end of the fiscal year which he pointed out was the biggest deficit in our peacetime history.

"Not long after the end of World War II," he said, "when our national debt had climbed to an alarming height, Congress placed a limit upon Federal government borrowing. That limit was fixed at 275 billion dollars. Today our debt has reached 272 billion, or within 3 billion of the legal limit."

"There is a disposition on the part of some of our people to take the debt lightly — as something for future generations to worry about. But I assure you," he warned, "that the danger is here — now — with all the explosive force of the atomic bomb. When I plead with you for economy in government, I have in mind every function at every level of government, including defense, foreign aid and all forms of domestic spending."

Emphasizing defense spending, Senator Martin said he favors providing the American soldier with the best that money and brains can provide, but he cited the waste in which many millions of dollars in equipment goes down the drain because such material has been junked.

Senator Watson voted for a bill that passed and will increase the pay of jury commissioners in fifth class counties.

He was also influential in a bill passed that will provide expense money for official out-of-state guests who will attend the dedication of the Revolutionary soldiers' field at Washington Crossing Park. This ceremony will be attended by the governors of the 13 original states and will be held either next fall or early in the spring of 1954.

Rail Underpass Project to Start

Construction of the Levittown-Tullytown railroad station underpass is scheduled to start this week, according to a spokesman for the contractors, James McGraw Company.

The pass will have a width of seven feet, five inches and a height of over nine feet. Plans call for an oval-shaped pass, with inside walls and ceiling curved and lined with plaster.

The contractors are the builders of two recently-constructed underpasses at the Morrisville freight yards.

Fairless Hills To Open New Shopping Center

(Illustrated on Page Two)

Stores and offices in the first section of the $3,000,000 Fairless Hills shopping center, with one exception, will open their doors on Monday morning. The center, located at Oxford Valley road and Hood and Olds boulevards, will not only serve the new 2500-home Fairless Hills community and a section of Levittown, but the remainder of the Lower Bucks county area.

A spokesman for the Jackson Cross Company, Philadelphia, the rental agent, said that some of the tenants in the first section include: Thomas Bartolacci, shoe shop and repair service; James Chalsant, barber; the Girard Investment

Bucks County Lawmakers Set Envious Mark

Legislators Report Aid In Many Bills

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 1 — Bucks County legislators who have returned from the 140th session of the Pennsylvania General Assembly's nearly seven-month session in Harrisburg, have an enviable record.

In the Senate, the end of the session came when Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tem, banged the gavel, supported by a blast from a Gabriel-like horn at the lips of Sen. Tilghman A. Freed, of Lehigh County. Just before that Senator Edward B. Watson (R., Bucks) was a member of the committee which informed Gov. S. Fine that the Senate was ready to close for the session.

State Assemblyman Wilson L. Peakel, Perkams, was a member of the House committee that informed the Senate that the House had completed its work for the session.

Senator Watson introduced numerous bills that were passed and voted for a large number of others that he did not introduce.

Watson-introduced bills provide for an appropriation for the Tabor Home, an appropriation to the National Agricultural College; increased pay for all the assessors.

The Watson-introduced bill given the upper port authority, the same rights as the lower river port authority (Philadelphia), subject to the okay of the U. S. Congress.

Senator Watson worked diligently for the passage of the bill that would have repealed the Philadelphia wage tax which it passed and would have saved Bucks Counties thousands of dollars. The bill got through the Senate on third reading, but was defeated in the House on June 11.

A Watson-sponsored bill way for $25,000 appropriation for a diagnostic laboratory for the study of poultry diseases at the National Agricultural College.

Another successful Watson act provides for additional fees for coroners in fifth class counties, including Bucks. After the first 100 cases now, the coroner will receive $25 per case. Some fifth class counties now have but 30 coroner's cases in a year while the Bucks County coroner handled over 300 last year, at a fee rate that was far from equitable, and with so many cases to handle he could not conduct the office without actually losing money on some inquests and investigations.

Senator Watson voted for a bill that passed and will increase the pay of jury commissioners in fifth class counties.

He was also influential in a bill passed that will provide expense money for official out-of-state guests who will attend the dedication of the Revolutionary soldiers' field at Washington Crossing Park. This ceremony will be attended by the governors of the 13 original states and will be held either next fall or early in the spring of 1954.

Another Watson-sponsored bill that was passed provides a $40,000 appropriation for the strengthening of the 70 bridges over the Delaware River Canal in Bucks and Northampton counties. The bridges were built originally for horse and wagon travel and are now dangerous for heavy vehicles such as fire apparatus.

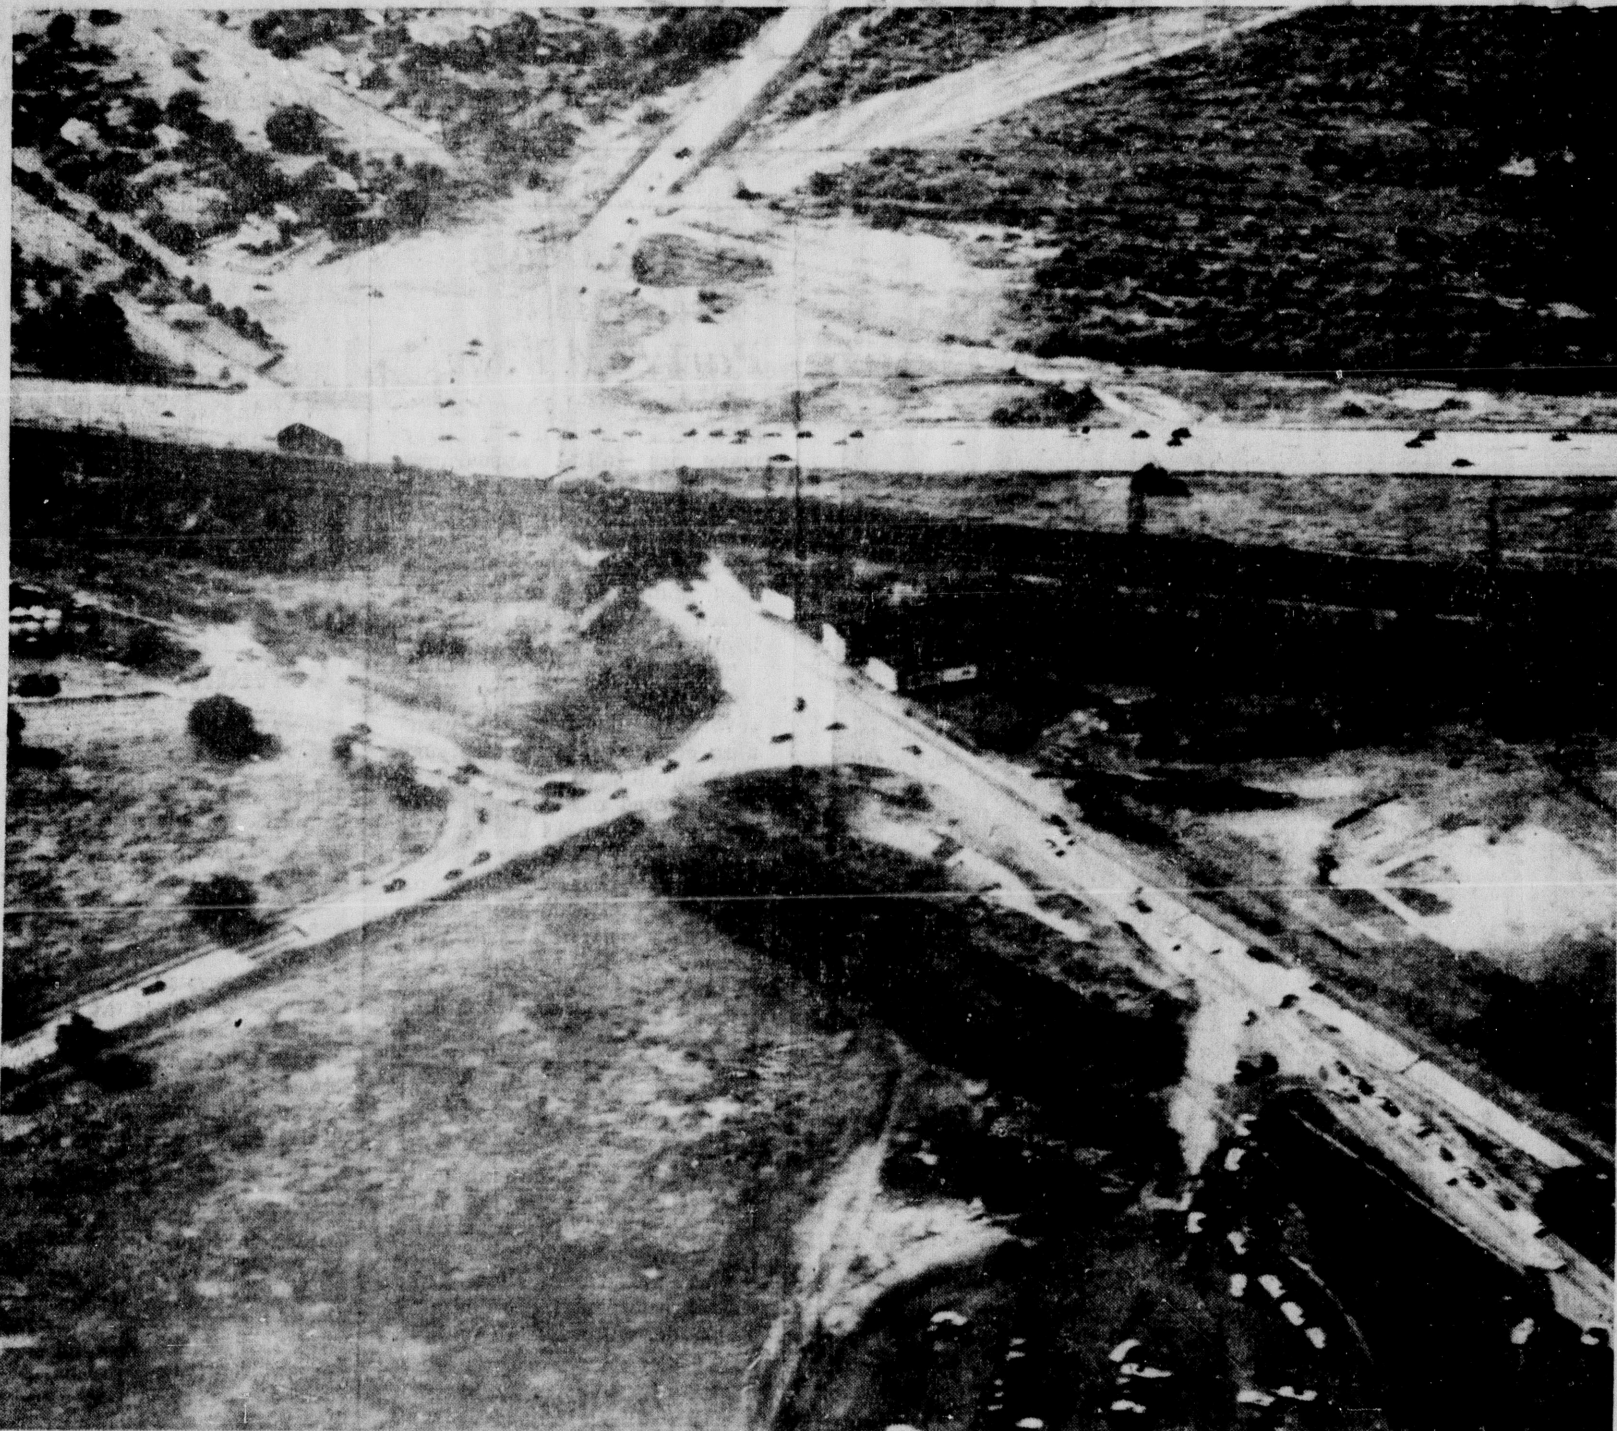

Senator Watson's bill that would have provided for better protection for school children riding school buses never came out of committee. It was viewed by some as "bad legislation" because of the danger of the patrol member himself being injured by the bus, and making the school district liable. Senator Watson said, however, that he felt certain that some better bill can be worked out at the next session of the Legislature. The Watson bill provided for one of the students to serve as a safety patrol officer aboard the bus, seeing to it that the students were safely unloaded.

Senator Watson is chairman of the important executive nominations committee, and co-chairman of the appropriations committee, as well as a member of a number of other committees.

Assemblyman Yeakel is a member of the powerful rules committee of the House, and a veteran member of the Legislature. Assemblyman Keller served for some time during the recent session as acting chairman of the state government committee, when the chairman was stricken ill.

THE SOON APPEARING OF JESUS

"For yet a little while and He that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I will also keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world to try them that dwell upon the earth."

"Behold, I come quickly, hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown."

For the Lord himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God and the dead shall rise first. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Steel Strikers Plan Conference On 'Grievances'

The rank and file of Local 4889 United Steelworkers (CIO) will meet at the Holy Name school hall, Hillcrest avenue, Morrisville, this afternoon at 3 o'clock to discuss a wildcat strike of 500 open hearth workers at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp.

A spokesman for the company said yesterday that furnaces are being banked for lack of personnel to operate them.

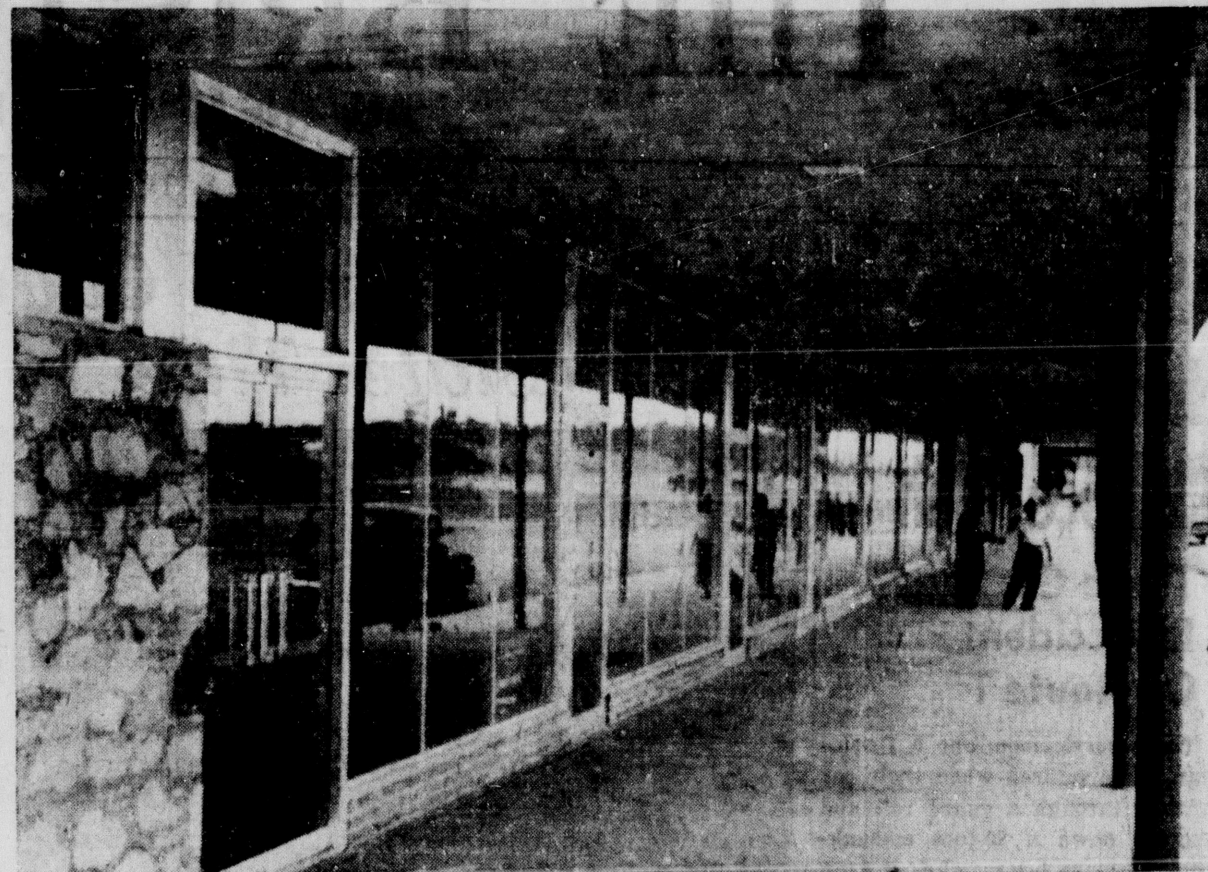

About 25 pickets were manning 24-hour-a-day watches at the gates of the plant, and most workers refused to cross the lines.

The entire plant has been shut down, a spokesman for the company said today, adding that the management has not been invited to discuss the workers' grievances at this afternoon's conference. Nor has any demands been made of the company thus far, but a union official said they will prepare a list of grievances at their conference today.

These grievances include, according to Albert Thomas, president of Local 4889, United Steelworkers (CIO), the following: seniority application and seniority rights for workers; company-bought tools to be supplied open hearth workers.

A company official said today they will schedule no conferences with the workers until the pickets are withdrawn from the gates.

Auto Boys Trip Franklin, 7-1

The arm of "Bill" Wigham was too much for the league-leading Franklin A. C. nine last evening as Auto Boys hammered Chick Stansky for 9 hits to win its Bristol Softball League game on Memorial field.

Wigham held the Franklin boys to four hits. From the second until the ninth, the Auto Boys twirled Franklin runless and hitless. Toby Oriola broke the spell with one out in the ninth by cracking out his second double of the game.

At one stage of the contest, Wigham retired 11 batters in a row. He passed two batters and was given good support in the pinches.

The lone Franklin run was unearned in the first. Sonny Field singled and went to second on Fred Costantino's error. Bert Barbetta flied out. Tony Palumbo hit to Joe Sallustio who tossed out the runner. Harold Peltz's throw to third got away from Chuck Klein, enabling Field to score.

Auto Boys counted twice in the second. Wigham's fly was dropped by Joe Cialella for a three-base error. Joe Frank hit to Palumbo whose throw to first was wide. Wigham crossing Klein and Sallustio were out. Horace Saxton scored Frank with a hit. Charlie Unland also hit but Costantino rolled out.

Chuck Klein's single, an error by Oriola, and fielder's choice gave Auto Boys another run in the fourth while Klein's second hit and Sallustio's double was good for another in the fifth. Chuck Klein's third hit drove in a pair of runs in the sixth.

Stansky received poor support, his mates erring six times. Klein found Stansky easy to hit in getting three out of four.

THE SOON APPEARING OF JESUS

"For yet a little while and He that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I will also keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world to try them that dwell upon the earth."
"Behold, I come quickly, hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown."
For the Lord himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet of God and the dead shall rise first. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

Steel Strikers Plan Conference On 'Grievances'

The rank and file of Local 4889, United Steelworkers (CIO) will meet at the Holy Name school hall, Hillcrest avenue, Morrisville, this afternoon at 3 o'clock to discuss a wildcat strike of 500 open hearth workers at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp.

A spokesman for the company said yesterday that furnaces are being banked for lack of personnel to operate them.

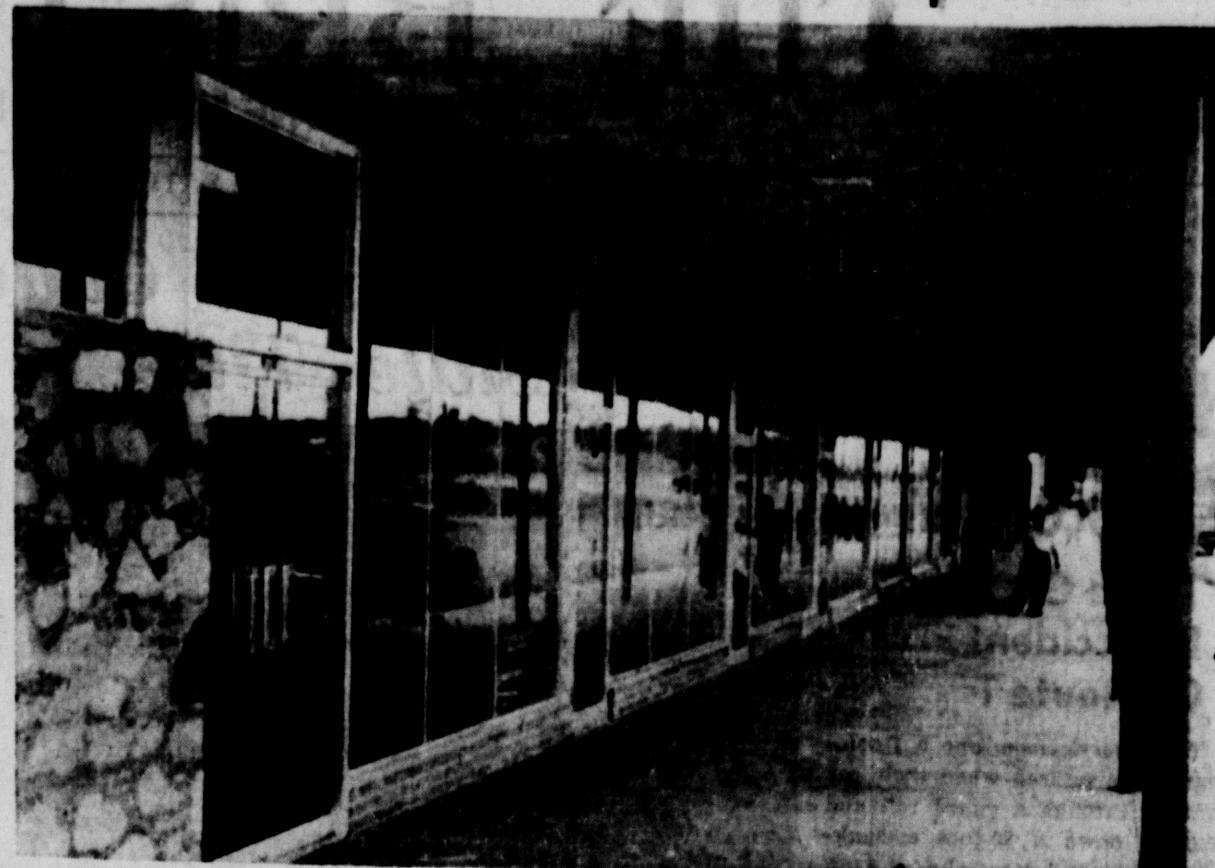

About 25 pickets were manning 24-hour-a-day watches at the gates of the plant, and most workers refused to cross the lines.

The entire plant has been shut down, a spokesman for the company said today, adding that the management has not been invited to discuss the workers' grievances at this afternoon's conference. Nor has any demands been made of the company thus far, but a union official said they will prepare a list of grievances at their conference today.

These grievances include, according to Albert Thomas, president of Local 4889, United Steelworkers (CIO), the following: seniority application and seniority rights for workers; company-bought tools to be supplied open hearth workers.

A company official said today they will schedule no conferences with the workers until the pickets are withdrawn from the gates.

All-Star Game Slated, Monday

Everything is in readiness for the annual All-Star game of the Bristol Softball League. The tilt, between the League All-Stars and Fifth Ward Sporting Club, champions of 1952, will be played on Memorial field, starting at six o'clock.

Ernie Pinelli, of the Kaiser Metal team, will manage the All-Stars. He will be assisted by Bert Barbetta, of Franklin A. C.

Each team of the circuit, with the exception of Fifth Ward, will contribute three players to the All-Star squad. Fifth Ward will play its regular 1953 lineup with Stanley Koreya doing the pitching.

Kaiser Metal's three players are: Lou Sassi, Jimmy Sottile, and Frankie Barbetta. Manager Pinelli will also use his pitcher, Vince DiMuccie. Auto Boys will send Chuck Klein, Fred Costantino, and Ray Pierandozzi to the lineup.

The league-leading Franklin A. C. aggregation will have Bob Lattanzi, Tony Palumbo, Toby Oriola, and Barney Ludwig to the lineup and

Cub Pack Goes To Shibe Park

Members of Cub Pack No. 39, Edgely, were to travel to Connie Mack Stadium, Philadelphia, by automobile today to see the Athletics play the Cleveland Indians.

The boys assembled at Edgely fire house at noon with Joseph Krounze, cub master, and several of the parents.

When the "young scouts" wrote for their reservations several months ago, they were informed that they, along with two adults, would be admitted free of charge today, so the boys are to see a "real big league game."

will also give Chick Stansky to the lineup.

The 3M's selections are: Freddie Barbetta, Chuck Hinkle, and Amy Lewis. The latter is leading the league in batting at the present time.

Indications point to a closely-played game.

Company, and J. W. Galbreath and Company, the builders of Fairless Hills.

Some of the other newcomers are: the Prudential Insurance Company of American; the Keystone Automobile club; Eastburn-Begley and Fullam, attorneys; and the Farmers National Bank of Bucks county.

Offices of the Falls township Authority and temporary quarters for the U. S. Post Office will also be housed in the new unit. The Union Supply Company, Pittsburgh, which will open during the middle of the month, will comprise the largest portion of the first unit; the building itself has an area of 50,000 square feet.

Right now they are still working on the parking area which will, when completed, accommodate 3000 automobiles. They hope that the lot will be completed by August 15.

The architecture of the center which is owned by the Danherst Corporation is of modern design, with ornamental stonework. Each building, along with being equipped for air-conditioning will have acoustical tile ceilings.

The next unit is scheduled for fall completion, while the third and final section will probably be finished after the first of the year.

Auto Boys Trip Franklin, 7-1

The arm of "Bill" Wigham was too much for the league-leading Franklin A. C. nine last evening as Auto Boys hammered Chick Stansky for 9 hits to win its Bristol Softball League game on Memorial field.

Wigham held the Franklin boys to four hits. From the second until the ninth, the Auto Boys twirler held Franklin runless and hitless. Toby Oriola broke the spell with one out in the ninth by cracking out his second double of the game.

At one stage of the contest, Wigham retired 11 batters in a row. He passed two batters and was given good support in the pinches.

The lone Franklin run was unearned in the first. Sonny Field singled and went to second on Fred Costantino's error. Bert Barbetta flied out. Tony Palumbo hit to Joe Sallustio who tossed out the runner. Harold Peltz's throw to third got away from Chuck Klein, enabling Field to score.

Auto Boys counted twice in the second. Wigham's fly was dropped by Joe Clafella for a three-base error. Joe Frank hit to Palumbo whose throw to first was wide. Wigham crossing Klein and Sallustio were out. Horace Saxton scored Frank with a hit. Charlie Uhlund also hit but Costantino rolled out.

Chuck Klein's single, an error by Oriola, and fielder's choice gave Auto Boys another run in the fourth while Klein's second hit and Sallustio's double was good for another in the fifth. Chuck Klein's third hit drove in a pair of runs in the sixth.

Stansky received poor support, his mates erring six times. Klein found Stansky easy to hit in getting three out of four.

Miss Rita Ann Smith Is Wed At St. Marks

At the altar of St. Mark's R. C. Church, which was banked with pink gladioli, Miss Rita Ann Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. Smith, 214 Radcliffe street, was united in matrimony yesterday afternoon to Mr. John A. May, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. May, Westfield, N. J. The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert Glass.

As Miss Katherine Keating provided organ music, the bride made her way to the altar on the arm of her father. The young woman wore an afternoon dress of white, dotted Swiss, matching crown, white linen slippers, white gloves, and carried a nosegay of white roses and baby breath with a white shower of ribbon.

Her sole attendant was her twin sister, Miss Helen A. Smith. Her afternoon dress was made like that of the bride, but of pink dotted Swiss. She wore a matching crown, pink linen slippers, white gloves, and carried a nosegay of pink roses and baby breath.

Serving as best man for Mr. May was Mr. Walter H. Smith, Jr., of Suffolk, Va., brother of the bride. Dinner was served members of the immediate families at Laverda Hall, Newtown township.

Mr. and Mrs. May are participants in a two weeks' motor trip. As a traveling costume the bride selected a brown and white nylon dress and white accessories. The two will occupy an apartment on Radcliffe street at a later date.

Choice of Mrs. Smith for the ceremony was a wheat tone dress of linen with lace yoke, and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a taupe tone dress and pink accessories. Each had a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. May, a graduate of Holy Trinity High School, Westfield, and of New York (N. Y.) University, is supervisor of industrial engineering at a plant of Kaiser Metal Products Company here. The former Miss Smith graduated from St. Mark's Commercial School and is employed by Kaiser Metal Products Company.

It's Easy to Make Pin Curls If You Have a Short Hairdo

For quick curling, moisten your hair with cologne or toilet water and put up curls. They'll be dry in about an hour.

By HELEN FOLLETT

THERE is one advantage in having a short hairdo—you get through the pin-curling task in less time. Many women make it a practice to form ringlets and anchor them down every night of their lives. If they can do it in twenty minutes, they're smart; they are more likely to spend twice that time on the task.

There are right and wrong ways of making curls. Section off a strand of hair, the size of the curl you wish to make. Tuck the end of the lock in neatly, form a circle, working up as closely to the scalp as you can, pressing it close to the flesh. To fasten, you may prefer invisible pins to bobbies. You may find the new clasps convenient, though they are better for a heavy growth than a thin, short one.

Pin Net Securely

Cover your head with a wave net and be sure that you pin it securely. If it doesn't stay put and you are a restless sleeper, some of your curls may string out during the night.

For a chignon, twist all the curls in the same direction. They will fall into pleasing waves. You need only curl the lower part of your hair for a style, leaving the crown portion smooth.

Miss Rita Ann Smith Is Wed At St. Marks

At the altar of St. Mark's R. C. Church, which was banked with pink gladioli, Miss Rita Ann Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. Smith, 214 Radcliffe street, was united in matrimony yesterday afternoon to Mr. John A. May, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. May, Westfield, N. J. The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert Glass.

As Miss Katherine Keating provided organ music, the bride made her way to the altar on the arm of her father. The young woman wore an afternoon dress of white, dotted Swiss, matching crown, white linen slippers, white gloves, and carried a nosegay of white roses and baby breath with a white ribbon.

Her sole attendant was her twin sister, Miss Helen A. Smith. Her afternoon dress was made like that of the bride, but of pink dotted Swiss. She wore a matching crown, pink linen slippers, white gloves, and carried a nosegay of pink roses and baby breath.

Serving as best man for Mr. May was Mr. Walter H. Smith, Jr., of Suffolk, Va., brother of the bride.

Dinner was served members of the immediate families at Laverdard Hall, Newtown township.

Mr. and Mrs. May are participants in a two weeks' motor trip. As a traveling costume the bride selected a brown and white nylon dress and white accessories. The two will occupy an apartment on Radcliffe street at a later date.

Choice of Mrs. Smith for the ceremony was a wheat tone dress of linen with lace yoke, and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a taupe tone dress and pink accessories. Each had a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. May, a graduate of Holy Trinity High School, Westfield, and of New York (N. Y.) University, is supervisor of industrial engineering at a plant of Kaiser Metal Products Company here. The former Miss Smith graduated from St. Mark's Commercial School and is employed by Kaiser Metal Products Company.

It's Easy to Make Pin Curls If You Have a Short Hairdo

For quick curling, moisten your hair with cologne or toilet water and put up curls. They'll be dry in about an hour.

By HELEN FOLLETT

THERE is one advantage in having a short hairdo—you get through the pin-curling task in less time. Many women make it a practice to form ringlets and anchor them down every night of their lives. If they can do it in twenty minutes, they're smart; they are more likely to spend twice that time on the task.

There are right and wrong ways of making curls. Section off a strand of hair, the size of the curl you wish to make. Tuck the end of the lock in neatly, form a circle, working up as closely to the scalp as you can, pressing it close to the flesh. To fasten, you may prefer invisible pins to bobbies. You may find the new clasps convenient, though they are better for a heavy growth than a thin, short one.

You should start at the left side of your head, working up

Pin Net Securely

Cover your head with a wave net and be sure that you pin it securely. If it doesn't stay put and you are a restless sleeper, some of your curls may string out during the night.

For a chignon, twist all the curls in the same direction. They will fall into pleasing waves. You need only curl a lower part of your hair for a style, leaving the crown portion smooth.

To Keep The Hobbyist Happy

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

THE building industry is in the throes of a new stone age—and no wonder! Colorful quarried stone adds a distinguished note to a home.

Many frame houses are featuring such trim. It can be had in shades such as blue, red, pink, green and yellow, and also comes in conventional tones of tan, brown, beige and gray.

The plan shown on today's page, No. K-356, has a stone veneer front, clapboard wings and a stone chimney. The front porch is flagstone and so is the dining porch.

For the Hobbyist

This is a house designed to keep the hobbyist happy. The garage offers him a work bench, a hobby corner and storage closets. And if he happens to be a garden enthusiast, there are plant frames behind the garage.

To the left of the entrance is the living room, which is well-ventilated and well-lighted thanks to a huge bay and a multi-paned picture window. Another pleasing feature here is the large fireplace.

Dining Room Porch

AMONG THE SPECIAL FEATURES of this home is a dining room porch that's an integral part of the plan and a kitchen dinette area.

THE GOOD-SIZED LIVING ROOM of today's house offers numerous decorative possibilities. The bay window provides an excellent spot to show off a piece of furniture, such as an attractive coffee table.

Compact Dwellings Are Aid To Comfort

Older couples whose children have grown up and departed can have a small efficient home without sacrificing the comfort and dignity so rightfully theirs.

The problems faced by those couples are treated by the current Small Homes Guide in an article entitled "Is Your Nest Empty?"

The older couple has an advantage over others when it comes to decorating and furnishing a new home, because their tastes have crystallized.

The secret of successfully decorating a new home lies in choosing the proper background and blending some of the couple's present furniture and possessions into that background.

Older couples should treat the walls, floors and ceiling of their new home as a stage set, choosing colors carefully in order to dramatize the treasured possessions they have collected.

Even though it would take a magician to cram 10 rooms of furniture into a two-bedroom house, they certainly shouldn't discard everything they now own. They can keep many of their favorite pieces and build their new room schemes around them.

Everyone knows, for example, that a man often has a peculiar attachment for his favorite chair. No matter how attractive a new chair may be, he won't want to part with the old one. However, he won't raise much fuss over having the old one reupholstered to blend in with a new color scheme.

Frederick A. Muhlenberg, educator, was born Aug. 25, 1818.

Compact Dwellings Are Aid To Comfort

Older couples whose children have grown up and departed can have a small efficient home without sacrificing the comfort and dignity so rightfully theirs. The problems faced by those couples are treated by the current Small Homes Guide in an article entitled "Is Your Nest Empty?" The older couple has an advantage over others when it comes to decorating and furnishing a new home.

because their tastes have crystallized. The secret of successfully decorating a new home lies in choosing the proper background and blending some of the couple's present furniture and possessions into that background. Older couples should treat the walls, floors and ceiling of their new home as a stage set, choosing colors carefully in order to dramatize the treasured possessions they have collected. Even though it would take a magician to cram 10 rooms of furniture into a two-bedroom house, they certainly shouldn't discard everything they now own. They can keep many of their favorite pieces and build their new room schemes around them. Everyone knows, for example, that a man often has a peculiar attachment for his favorite chair. No matter how attractive a new chair may be, he won't want to part with the old one. However, he won't raise much fuss over having the old one reupholstered to blend in with a new color scheme. Frederick A. Muhlenberg, educator, was born Aug. 25, 1818.

Congested Traffic On Roads Too Small--The Great Lower Bucks Issue

Main Intersections Are Daily Battlegrounds of The Bristol-Morrisville Area

The intersection of Route 13 with Green Lane has been a growing problem for two or three years but is nothing to what may be expected when this becomes the site of one of the major entrances to the new Turnpike extension now under construction. Traffic on Green Lane in the afternoons is able to enter Route 13 so slowly that it backs up sometimes as far as Radcliffe Street.

The twin bridges on Route 13 three miles outside of Morrisville—scene of some of the most sensational traffic tangles ever witnessed. Tyburn Road, which is a main artery carrying thousands of U. S. Steel workers to and from their jobs, enters Route 13 at the left of the picture above. Both busy highways funnel huge amounts of traffic onto the narrow bridges. At the other side similar almost hopeless congestions result where Tyburn Road and Route 13 separate. Lines of cars standing bumper to bumper and moving only inches at a time are a daily occurrence.

Elbow Room For Cars Is Urgent Problem

In lower Bucks County there is no problem like the traffic problem.

Everyone lives with it day after day. The older residents and the new ones have to contend with the same tug-of-war between too many cars and too few roads. Programs for the solution, or at least the relief, of the problem have been announced and well publicized.

Recently the first unit of the relocation for Route 13 was announced. There seems little hope that this one improvement program, only one out of many needed, can be completed within less than about three years. Meanwhile traffic steadily increases.

At one time it was hopefully stated that the U. S. Steel operations would produce traffic congestion only during the construction period. This now appears to have been much too optimistic.

Between the employees of U. S. Steel, its satellites and other active industries on the one hand, and the thousands upon thousands of new residents who have to drive to and from work, traffic grows by leaps and bounds.

Some of the main improvements in the region, such as the new bridge at Morrisville and the Turnpike extension, will have little effect upon the stagnating local traffic.

Needless to say, the problem and the slowness with which it is being met are a source of vigorous criticism in many quarters.

In a period when our military experts, for example, can move into a wilderness and have an airport in operation within a matter of a week or so, or to name another instance, when roads capable of carrying the heaviest of traffic were thrown down in hours as a part of the Normandy invasion, it seems hard to understand why weeks have lengthened into months and months into years since the steel operations at Morrisville were announced and little tangible has been accomplished to relieve the traffic jams.

What newcomers to the area may think as they go along in the endless queues, spending an hour or so to accomplish what ought to be a ten-minute drive, risking their cars and even their lives in the scramble—that is a question.

Also hard to answer is the question of whether all is being done with existing roads and facilities which might be done to speed up traffic. For instance, few of the major intersections have been marked with lines to help separate different directions of traffic. A good many breath-taking skirmishes could be eliminated by this process.

Again, there seems to be a determination to hold traffic to a single lane in spots where double lanes might considerably speed the flow. An instance of this is on Green Lane approaching Route 13 from the south, where the right-turn traffic, if encouraged to drive on the birm, could move continuously on both red and green lights.

Considerably more traffic could move at nearly all the congested intersections if right turns on red were encouraged. This is standard practice at such intersections at many places elsewhere, and it is difficult to see why, for instance, it has not already been in effect at Green Lane and Route 13, or a number of other similar intersections.

Still a further aid which would involve some expense but not a great deal would be to construct right-turn lanes to help keep such traffic moving.

For example, cars going west on Route 13 at Rogers Road and wishing to turn right on the new "Dream Highway," where a right-turn lane was built expressly to keep them moving, nevertheless are constantly being blocked by cars bound toward Frankford and stopped waiting for the light to change. The immense amount of traffic at this intersection certainly would seem to justify the small cost of constructing a third traffic lane to permit the right-turning cars to keep moving.

Taft now joins the large rank of those statesmen in American history who failed to achieve the Presidency in spite of exceedingly great ability and accomplishment which would have fully justified the entrusting to them of the office of Chief Executive.

In the early days we had such men as Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and John Marshall. Subsequently, there were Webster, Calhoun and Clay.

This is distinguished company to which the name of Taft now will be linked by historians who inevitably will give to him a steadily increasing weight in their estimates of current American events.

Your Birthday by STELLA II

SATURDAY, AUGUST 1 — Born today, your emotions are very near the surface and you must learn strict control of them or they, in turn, will control your life. And this is not always as it should be. You get further, faster, if you hold the reins in your own hands. You are impulsive, too, and must learn to think twice before making an important decision. Your intuitive judgment is not as keen as many who are born under this sign.

You are ambitious and want to make your mark in the world. Your originality will see you a long way on the road to success. But you must learn to test your ideas for their reliability. Not every "brain wave" is a practical one. You men have definite talent in the field of mechanical invention. You might do well to hire a good, hard-headed business manager who can put your ideas into production and see that you reap the commensurate financial benefit.

Your tastes are excellent and your critical abilities, keen. You might put this to use in the field of music, literature or art criticism. Since you have a strongly marked love nature and are fond of children you will be happiest if you wed at an early age and have a family of your own. You will find inspiration in working for the happiness of your loved ones.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

could bring you a spiritual uplift that is needed just now.

Sunday, August 2
VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — A good sermon, today, might have a message that you really need to carry on toward your goal.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 24) — The weather may determine the form your recreation takes today. If fair, get out in it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Don't over-expose yourself to the sun but otherwise get yourself a good healthy tan.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 23) — May not be the best day for you to go a long way off. Find your relaxation close to home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20) — Your devotional duties can bring considerable consolation as well as pleasure just now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Important for you to relax tensions. Too much work, without any play, can be harmful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Aspects are favorable today for a socially pleasant time. Be host or hostess to your friends.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — Spiritual as well as physical well-being can prove vitally important to all your future planning.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — If this is the final day of a happy week end, get an early start home and avoid the traffic crush.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Your long week end can prove healthfully beneficial, if you don't attempt too much right now.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — If you have been able to get out into the country, you should find your whole attitude changed!

SUNDAY, AUGUST 2 — Born today, your greatest talent probably lies in the field of literature. If you will develop this gift, you will find that you can go far. However, you also have a gift for design and might paint or be an architect. You also have an interest in science, history and philosophical thought. In fact, you have a variety of fields from which you may make a selection for your life work. You will be happiest if you are your own boss. You will never be contented working for others on a salary. You should always be strictly "on your own."

You have strong ties of home and family and will do everything possible to make those you love happy and contented. You should wed at an early age and raise a family of your own.

You are a natural leader and should develop this gift. Parents of children born on this day will find that their progeny can be lead and directed but never ordered around or pushed into things. They must make up their own minds.

You are fond of everything beautiful in life but are a little too inclined to be extravagant. You want the pleasant luxuries of life — and intend to have them. Learn to save a little, too. That can also prove important to you and your family.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, August 3
LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Even if you are enthusiastic over a new idea, put it to a rigid test before adopting it.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — You may need to be a little more cautious of your budget than you have been recently.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Be alert to opportunities on the job which will expand your success potential.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Be alert and vigorous in attacking a new problem and you will find it easier than you thought.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 23) — Begin a new work week with a refreshed outlook on life. You can get a lot done that way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20) — You should be bouncing with good energy now. Tackle a job you may have been postponing. Finish it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — If something intricate presents itself for a solution, you should be able to handle it now.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Making haste slowly will avoid the error of pulling a "boner." Be on your guard.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — You can still have time for a social engagement this evening, if you work hard all day!

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Begin the new working week with the determination to start a rugged job and get it finished.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Be efficient in everything you handle today. The profits can prove very rewarding.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Your intuitions are very keen. Follow them very carefully. Don't be urged against your will.

Your tastes are excellent and your critical abilities, keen. You might put this to use in the field of music, literature or art criticism. Since you have a strongly marked love nature and are fond of children you will be happiest if you wed at an early age and have a family of your own. You will find inspiration in working for the happiness of your loved ones.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Attention at the church of your choice could bring you a spiritual uplift that is needed just now.

Sunday, August 2

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—A good sermon, today, might have a message that you really need to carry on toward your goal.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—The weather may determine the form your recreation takes today. If fair, get out in it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Don't over-expose yourself to the sun but otherwise get yourself a good healthy tan.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—May not be the best day for you to go a long way off. Find your relaxation close to home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20)—Your devotional duties can bring considerable consolation as well as pleasure just now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Important for you to relax tensions. Too much work, without any play, can be harmful.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)—Aspects are favorable today for a socially pleasant time. Be host or hostess to your friends.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20)—Spiritual as well as physical well-being can prove vitally important to all your future planning.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)—If this is the final day of a happy week end, get an early start home and avoid the traffic crush.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Your

long week end can prove healthfully beneficial, if you don't attempt too much right now.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—If you have been able to get out into the country, you should find your whole attitude changed!

SUNDAY, AUGUST 2—Born today, your greatest talent probably lies in the field of literature. If you will develop this gift, you will find that you can go far. However, you also have a gift for design and might paint or be an architect. You also have an interest in science, history and philosophical thought. In fact, you have a variety of fields from which you may make a selection for your life work. You will be happiest if you are your own boss. You will never be contented working for others on a salary. You should always be strictly "on your own."

You have strong ties of home and family and will do everything possible to make those you love happy and contented. You should wed at an early age and raise a family of your own.

You are a natural leader and should develop this gift. Parents of children born on this day will find that their progeny can be lead and directed but never ordered around or pushed into things. They must make up their own minds.

You are fond of everything beautiful in life but are a little too inclined to be extravagant. You want the pleasant luxuries of life—and intend to have them. Learn to save a little, too. That can also prove important to you and your family.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Monday, August 3

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Even if you are enthusiastic over a new idea, put it to a rigid test before adopting it.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—You may need to be a little more cau-

the determination to start a rugged job and get it finished.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Be efficient in everything you handle today. The profits can prove very rewarding.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Your intuitions are very keen. Follow them very carefully. Don't be urged against your will.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Thy word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against thee.—Ps. 119:11.
Paul said it is no longer I that live but Christ that liveth in me. That kept sin out by faith.
